The Boss and Beneficial Suggestions

Probably the most effective way to encourage people to turn in beneficial suggestions is to do something that supervisors themselves can do. How? Don't wait for employees to come up with ideas actively, but actively look for them. Tell them about the supervisors in other companies who do, and then actively look for them to do what you want them to do. See if there is a set plan for this, and when you do find one, make sure that it's implemented. If it's not, you may have to come up with some suggestions yourself to fix the problem, but the most effective way is to do as they do. If they're doing it, they're doing it for a reason.

AIAWAA Sponsors Book Booth Project

The "AIAWAA" Sponsors Book Booth Project is a book retail conducted in the Los Angeles area, sponsored by the Los Angeles Women's Auxiliary of the American Federation of Government Employees. The project is conducted by a team of volunteers who work together to select and organize books for the booth. The project is successful because it provides a valuable service to the community and helps promote reading. The volunteers are enthusiastic about the project and are committed to making it a success. The project is a great example of how a group of people can work together to achieve a common goal.
